E. LITTELL'S LIVING AGE,

This is work is conducted in the spirit of Littell's

Museum of Foreign Literature, (which was favorably received by the public for twenty jears,) but as it is twice as large, and appears so often, the editor not only gives spirit and freshness to it by many thingswhich were excluded by a month's delay, but whilethus extending his scope and gatta cring a greater and unor auttentive variety, is able so to increase the solid and substantial part of his silterary, historical, and political larvest, as fully to satisfy the wants of the American reader.

The claborate and stately Essays of the Edin wit and wisdom from Pouch; and, when he thinks it good enough, makes neo of the thunder of the Times.

The steamship has brought Europe, Aria, and Africa, into one neighborhood; and will greatly multiply our connections, as Merchants, Travellers, and Politicians, withall parts of the world; so that much move than ever it now becomes every intelligent American to be informed of the condition and change of foreign countries. And this not only because of their mover connection with oneselves, but because the untions seem to be hastening, threagh a rapid process of change, to some new state of things, which the merely political prophet cannot compute or foresce.

Coogcaphical Discoveries, the progress of Colimization, (which is extending over the whole owrth), and Voyages and Travels, afford favorite matter for his selections; and, in general, the editor systematically and very fully acquaints his readers with the great department of Poreign of fairs, without neighbeing on wor.

While the Living Ago is desirable to all who to keep themselves informed of the rapid progress of the novement—to Statestene, Divines, Lawyers, and Physicians—to men of business and men felsione,—it will be found to be expully attractive and useful to their wires and children. It is indispensable to every well-informed family. We say indispensable to every well-informed family. We say indispensable to every well-informed family. TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 5, 1880.

The Winter Term of the Newport Female Seminary will commence on Wednesday, the 6th inst. This excellent Institution is under the charge of the Misses Coo, who have spaced no pains or expense to make it worthy of the patronage of these who are most particular in giving their daughters a finished and accomplished education. There area sufficient number of Teachers emplayed to give the fullest attention to all the young ladies; and all the branches of a thorough education are there taught. The greatest attention is paid to the training and nurturing of the social characters of those Misses who are placed under their care, by the very estimable ladies who conduct this Seminary. We most cordially commend it to the attention and patronage of all parents who have daughters to educate,

The Lordon Exhibition. -- We learn from the National Intelligencer that the Secretary of the Treasury has consented to the nee of yessels in the revenue service of the United States for the transportation of articles of American production from the various ports along the Atlantic coast, to such point as shall be selected for the departure of the ship appropriated to convoy them to the London Exhibition, wherever it can be done without detriment to the public service.

ORIGIN OF THE PHRASE.

" WHO STRUCK BILLY PATTERSON." Believing that few, if any, of our numerous renders know whence or how the saying that heads this article originated, and having accidentally become acquainand with the fact that it originated in this county, I have been at some trouble to ascertish the particulars, and now give them to you as follows :- Scott's

About the year 1830, the Commissimers of this York county, Pa., when making their annual tour for the purpose of holding the appeals, stopped at Corner Ketch, Chanceford tp., at the public house of Mr. Ephram McCleary. Peter Ahl, Sr., J. W. Hetrick, and the veritable Billy Patterson were the Commissioners -Daniel Small being their clerk: Captain Patterson was naturally died but a short time before, he was low-spirited and sad; and the others, for the purpose of rousing him from the legarthy into which he had fallen, commenced running riggs upon him. Bucoming tired of their jokes, he determined to have some fun, cost what it might; and going into another room he found a little Likhman whose name was John Modil, and, told him that some person in the other room had struck him. Johnby became very angry when told that his old friend had been abused, and immediately went over into the other room with him, and song out at the top of his voice, and almost cheking with passion -- " Who athruck Hilly Patterson ?"

The party assembled began to laugh hoisterously, which only made Johnny the more augry; and ne often as the mirth would subside a little, he would again cry out-" Just show me the man that sthruck Billy Patterson !"

And going up to Small, who was laughing loudly, he seized him by the throat and said :--

You dirty gripe, did you strike Billy Patterson ?" and would have whipped him on the spot, but Patterson interfered, and told him he did not know who struck him, when Johnny left the room

But little sleeping was done in that house for every now and then, during the whole night, Johnny would cry out " Who struck Billy Patterson P

Or, Show me the man that struck Billy Patterson?"

Phis soon became the popular ery at sales, public meetings, &c., throughout custry and was given to the world by being published in one of the Lancaster, Pa., papers, from the statement made to the editor by Mr. Mc-Cleary, at whose house the joke was played off.

The actors in this little comedy in real life are all living, so far as known to me, excepting Mr. McCleary; and Capt. Wm. Patterson still lives in our midst, is us fond of fun as ever, and will never knock under, until struck by the hand of death. But to appreciate it, the reader should hear the Captain tell the story himself, for he throws into ita dry humor, that would make a Don Quixote forget his whims, or provoke a saint to laughter.1

Yours, &c. J. C. York, York county, Pa.

The Indian mail arrived on the 19th ult. The news was unimportant. The news from India brought dates from Bombay to Sept. 19th, Calcutta 7th, and Hong Kong 4th. It was devaid of political interest.

The work on the Calcutta Railway had been commenced.

Sir Charles Maguire was to commence his return home from Silma on the 5th The cholera was still prevalent in various districts in India.

The India and China seas were infested with pirates. The news from China was unimportant.

The difficulties between China and Portugal at Macao had been arranged. The expedition of the Dutch against Bornco have met small sucress.

 Business season had commenced, and trade was looking up. Cotton is selling at favorable prices.

Commercial news from Calcutta was favorable. The export trade was firm. The old stores of indigo were sold. Sattpeter was constantly in demand, and so was Rice and raw Silk, of which the prices were looking up. Oils Seeds were in constant demand. A great deal of business was done in Opium.

A DAMPER TO BATHING .-- The last number of the Boston and Surgical Jourand afters the opinion that "once a week is often enough to bathe the whole body for the purpose of luxury or elegatiness. Deyand this we consider bathing as injurious. Flannel worn next to the skin at all seasons, is proper, and infinitely more healthful than all the daily baths now so thehionable." The argument by which this opinion is supported, is as "The oil which is sciereted by the sebaccous glands of the skin serves the purpose of lubricating its surface. Now if this secretion is constantly removed as fast as exaded, its destined object is thereby defeated. The excretory ducts of the perspiratory glands themselves, require this unctious matter of the skin to keep them in action. If very frequent buthing of the body is practised, it must be obvious that this matter cannot be long present to perform its office. At to the assimilations of functions of the skin and lungs, it will be apparent, that when the skin acts imperfectly, or ceases to act at all, the lungs have an extra amount of duty to perform; and it is generally in just such cases that engorgement of them takes place, constituting inflammation, or pneumonia."

Mr. LAYARD has mude a discovery at Ninevali of the greatest interest. He has penetrated into a chamber which appears to be of the same class as the "House of Records." noticed by the prophet Ezra. In this chamber Mr. Layard found, in terra colla tables. piled up from the floor to the ceiling, what are apparently the archives of the Assyrian Empire during a long historical succession. Five large cases of these tables have been packed up for transportation to England. Some of our natiquarian literati indulge the idea that these tables will give us a better account of the history, religion, jurisprudence and philosophy of the Assyrians, thirteen centuries before the Christian cra, than we have of either Greece or Rome during any period of their history.

MOST SINGULAR ACCIDENT,-One of the most singular accidents of which we have over heard, took place yesterday afternoon on Liberty street. An empty harrel, which had been brought from New Castle, Lawrence county, stood on the prevenient in front of Mr. William Dyer's grocery and produce store. It had contained a mixture of impenting and alcohol, and the end which had been pierced for the spigot stood upper steorar.

A small colored boy about twelve years old, named Williams, came eauntering along with a eigar in his month, as it was unlit, drew a match across the head of the barrel to light it, when an explosion as loud as that of a cannon was heard, and the little fellow was prostrated on the pavement, one portion of the head of the barrel having struck him on the cheek, which haid it open to the bone, while the other part was thrown over the warehouse of the Mesers. Mitchiltree. The poor fellow was likewise severely burned.

It is supposed that the heat of the sun had filled the barrel with gas, and as the lad drew the match across its head, it passed over the spigot hole, thus communicating with the inflammable air within .-- Pittsburg Gaz.

The foreign merchants and shippers of London have agreed to establish a "club for all nations," to meet the requirements of the strangers, merchants, and others, who will be in town during the exhibition of 1851.

The club will be provided, in addition to the usual accommodations, with interpreters acquainted with all languages of the East and of Europe, guides and commissioners, and departments for information. A committee of gentlemen, merchants of London, has been clected to earry out the undertaking.

THE IDEA OF EQUINOCITAL STORMS.-The New Orleans Bulletin denounces it und says:

Did you ever hear any reason given for September and March gales, or as they are called equinoctial gales, except that the sun then "crosses the line."and what is this "crossing the line?"-Nothing at all! It is all numinal, there is no such thing as the suncressing the that the sun on those days is vertical at noon, on the Equator, as it is vertical at few days previously, a short distance to the northward of it; and vertical a few days afterwards, a short distance southward of it. It is also vertical in faitude 23 deg, north on the 21st of June and so line. It is neither more nor less than 3 deg, north on the 21st of June, and 23 deg. south on the 21st December, and there is just as much reason why there should be gales at or near these two latter days, as on the Bist March, or the 21st September. It is true, there are concetimes severe gales in September, but more frequently in August, and seientific men have attempted to account for them from long continued or unusual heat within the tropies, that has rarified the air, and produced a hidden rush from the other quarters, in order to restore the cquitbrum, and thus produce gates and harricanes; but the position of the sam, or rather the position of the earth towards the sun, has no more to do with these storms, than the planet Venus, or Le-Verrier's new planet Neptune.

JENNY LIND DAGUERILEOTYPES.

As there is a deal of excitement caused by the Swedish Nightingale, so there is about the life-like Pictures taken by WILLIAMS. Have you visited his rooms I find, to not hit to some because he has made up his mind, to thay in Newport but a few weeks langer. What is token of remembrance is a perfect likeness? When triennis are removed from us, with what pleasure can we hring their features to our eyes by having that which no family should be without; it brings to our mind those poyous home; which we look to tone. Then, reader, make it your duty to displint to this place of remembrance, and you will never be servy. The subserible has all the latest improvements in the art, and by the pursuent process he is enabled to take a correct likeness in the short space of it seconds. JENNY LIND DAGUERREOTYPES.

WASHING BLEACHING AND CLEANSING FLEID, the greatest thou-saving article put discovered. By its ore, consling madate one quarter the labor is required to do the washing of a family.

The Fluid is a chemical compound of sufficient strongth to extract all foreign substances from the cloth by simply holling a sindly quarity of it with the clothes, and without the slightest injury to the most delicate falaric.

The expense is not more than that of the scap ordinarily used, and besides this it will be seen that the great were and tware of clything consequent
